Sit. Stand. Move. Repeat

Research shows that moving from one posture to another is beneficial to our health – people who move more, feel better.

And people who feel better, work better. The Ratio height adjustable desk enables a smooth transition between sitting and standing. Users can vary their posture as they need, to find the right balance between sitting and standing throughout the day.

Ratio can be specified as single or back-to-back desks in unlimited clusters, working with our other desking solutions to complete any floor plate.
